UN Crisis! To Decide M'Arthur's 'China in Korea' Charge

Have 24-Hours To Settle Fate Of 60 Nations

Fear World War III If Vote Slaps Reds

Lake Success, Nov. 7.—(AP)—United Nations diplomats conferred today on how to handle General MacArthur's charges that Communist China has sent her troops into Korea.

They have only 24 hours to make one of the most significant decisions in the history of the world organization. The Security Council meets in emergency session tomorrow morning to consider the charges.

Fear World War III

There was the fear that World War III might erupt if they label the Chinese Reds aggressors and authorize U. N. military action to combat them. Such a war seemed inevitable if Russia supported her ally—the Communist government in Peking.

On the other hand was the knowledge that the world looked to the U. N. to take a clear-cut stand opposing aggression.

Diplomats, in the face of these alternatives, were puzzled. Two basic facts which could decisively sway their decisions were missing:

1. How deeply committed Red China is to the Korean war.
2. What Moscow's attitude would be in case of war involving the United Nations against Communist China.

They sought a resolution to present to the Security Council, fulfilling the U. N.'s anti-aggression aims and yet not leading directly to an irrevocable war commitment.

Responsible diplomatic circles said last night that western diplomats currently favor a restatement.

Courthouse Leaves Bright Out Firemen

Firemen sped to the 100 block of E. Second street this morning to extinguish a fire in leaves against the courthouse retaining wall.

A 20-foot strip of leaves banked against the wall had burned before firemen arrived. No cars were parked at the curb at the time. The fire call came at 9:30 a. m.

Joye 'Red' Ellis' Condition Is Good

Joye (Red) Ellis, 51, of 416 E. Third street, was reported in "good" condition today after a fall Sunday from a step-ladder.

He slipped while washing windows and landed on a newly-trimmed bush. His wife said one of the twigs punctured his bladder.

A Voter Says A Prayer on Election Day

On this day, Lord, I thank Thee for the franchise of free men. Today, I am become as royal as kings and as powerful as chancellors. As thrones come to men by right of birth, so my scepter comes to me through noble lines.

Countless martyrs to liberty salute me as I pass through their silent ranks on my royal progress to a schoolhouse, a garage, or a fire station; but the United States flag outside the polling place invests it with the sovereignty of the individual.

In the simple act of casting my ballot is celebrated every social and political right gained in a thousand years. Make me worthy, O Lord, of my high privilege. Strip me of prejudice and all selfish interest. Give me sound judgment and the wisdom to make right decisions.

Bless our world family of nations; and speed the day when conflicting ideologies may be settled, not through the holocaust of war—but by sanctity of the vote.

NORTH AND SOUTH SIDES ALIKE TURN OUT EN MASSE TODAY to vote for their choices for state and county offices and for a U. S. senator. Here's an early morning scene from 11th precinct polling place in the Masonic temple. All precincts reported "much heavier than average voting."

'I AM A VOTE'

"I am a vote.
"By myself I am a small thing yet I am one of the greatest forces among civilized men. I represent citizenship in the greatest country on earth. My power is so wonderful that I can decide when war will cease and peace begin.

"I can arrest the wheels of industry, empty the mines, stop the railroads, change the course of nations. Wisely used, I am a blessing; foolishly treated, I may become an unmitigated curse. I have a wonderful history, almost as great as my power.
"Yet I am often neglected; overlooked like an old maid's birthday. If I am not used, I might as well belong to a criminal or an alien. If I am used ignorantly, I become a menace.

"But when I am used as an expression of conscience, candor and courage, I shine as a star in the flag of the great republic.

"I am YOUR vote—the one you should cast today if you are interested in the welfare of the United States of America."

UN Units Expand Bridgehead; Reds in Mystery Withdrawal

(By the Associated Press)

Seoul, Nov. 7.—(AP)—United Nations forces expanded their slim bridgehead north of the Chongchon river today as some Communists mysteriously withdrew on the northwest Korean waterfront.

Two U. S. 24th division regiments and the British Commonwealth brigade moved ahead two and one-fourth miles after a heavy air bombing in the Pakchon area, northwest of the bridgehead at Anju. There was little opposition on this front although Red concentrations had applied heavy pressure as late as Monday.

In the north-central sector, Chinese Red resistance eased suddenly in front of U. S. Marines driving through rugged mountain passes toward the Changjun reservoir. The Marines had off Seventh Division.

40 Millions Go to Polls Today in U.S.

By JACK BELL
AP Political Reporter

With the nation treading uneasy ground somewhere between war and peace, 40,000,000 or more voters decide today whether Democrats or Republicans will control congress in the two critical years ahead.

Signs pointed to close races in many of the states choosing 36 senators, 432 house members and 32 governors.

Maine elected a Republican governor and three house members in September. Heavy party majorities in southern and border states assured the Democrats of a nest egg of more than 100 house seats in practically uncontested elections.

All Urge Turn-Out
With fair weather in sight for most of the nation, Republican leaders joined President Truman and other Democrats in urging a heavy turnout at the polls.

Republicans counted on last-hour voter reaction to the confused Korean war situation to help provide the impetus for the ballot; surge they seemed to need to gain a net of seven seats in the senate and 49 in the house for control of congress.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) voiced one GOP viewpoint with a demand on Secretary of State Acheson yesterday for acceptance of a Chinese Nationalist offer—made in July—of 33,000 ground troops to fight the Communists in Korea.

Asserting that Chinese Communists had invaded Korea to battle United Nations forces, Knowland said there no longer was any reason to bar the Nationalists on grounds that their entry into the war would provoke retaliation by the Chinese Reds.

Despite the possible threat of full-scale warfare with the Chinese Communists, President Truman said in a speech in Independence, Mo., that "the common victory against aggression in Korea is evidence that the free nations will not let Communism swallow up free peoples one by one."

Earlier in a luncheon talk, the President promised that the United States "never again will run out."

Lush Horse Parlor Raided in New York Financial District

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A richly-furnished office suite in the Wall Street district was raided yesterday by police who charged it was the center of an $50,000-a-day horse race betting business. Three men were arrested, and $22,400 in cash seized, along with betting slips and bookmaking equipment, police said.

Wall Street executives and clothing manufacturers—some of whom bet as much as $10,000 a day—made up most of the ring's patronage, police said.

Quiz More Chicago Police on Gambling

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Two more Chicago police captains appeared before senate crime committee investigators yesterday for questioning.

The officers, acting Captain Kinzie Elliott and Capt. Louis Capparelli, said they were asked about their incomes, duties and knowledge of gambling in their districts.

George S. Robinson, associate committee counsel, refused to discuss the testimony. Five other police captains had appeared previously before the investigators.

Miami, Fla., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Harry Russell, 59, the man the senate crime investigating committee said tried to "muscle in" on the rich Miami Beach S and G bookmaking syndicate, was out on bond totaling $18,000 today.

He was charged with: 1—Contempt of congress for failing to answer questions by the crime committee last September as to whether he was associated with the Chicago underworld.

2—Offering bribes to sheriff's deputies in two indictments returned by a Dade (Miami) county grand jury.

3—Operating gambling houses.

Dewey's 18 Hours in Front Of Microphones Sets Record

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey fought his reelection campaign today to the final moment last night in an 18-hour television-radio "talkathon" that may make political history.

He was on and off the air from 6 a. m. to midnight for a total of five and one-half hours of broadcasting. The program blanketed the state and drew more than 8,000 telephone calls.

Dewey ran his own show like an easy-talking political disc jockey. Wearing professional tan television makeup, and soliciting questions with no holds barred.

There was no music, but lots of action and more talk.

Part of the time Dewey handled the telephone himself, giving his

The plane left this Civil Aeronautics Administration radio control area at 7:53 a. m. (MST), (9:53 a. m. CST) officials of the CAA tower said.

Started to Descend

At 8:11 a. m., the CAA said, the pilot of the Martin 202 radioed that he was over Whitehall about 30 miles southeast of here. He was at 10,500 feet, starting his descent.

He was about 10 minutes out of Butte.

The weather bureau said there was snow and light rain on Pipestone Pass, where the mountains are about 6,000 feet high, between Whitehall and Butte.

The CAA said all stations on its northwest circuit tried unsuccessfully to raise the plane for one hour and 20 minutes.

F. M. Kistler, Northwest acting station manager here, declined to release the crew list or the names of the three passengers who boarded the plane here.

Search Underway
Wiley said a ground search started immediately. Because of the weather, only one airplane—a Northwest DC-4—went out to look for the missing craft.

The plane was Northwest's.

British Interests Buy $11 Millions in Dime Store Stock

London, Nov. 7.—(AP)—An American was reported today to have sold $11,200,000 worth of British Woolworth, Ltd., stock to British interests. There were unconfirmed reports the seller might have been Barbara Hutton, wealthy dime store heiress.

The deal was said to have been negotiated through a brokerage firm by a member of the Woolworth family, selling at just over 40 shillings ($5.60) a share for 2,000,000 shares with par value of five shillings (70 cents). Market price of the shares is 42½ shillings ($5.95).

Count at Noon Was 3,175, Far Ahead of April

Total May Exceed Figures for 1948

The weather was cool but the voting in Dixon was hot and heavy.

As of noon, 3,175 voters had turned out. All 12 precincts said voting was 20 to 100 per cent above previous years.

In the primaries last April, the noon voting was recorded at less than 1,000.

County-wide voting also was described as "well above normal."

Here's the individual precinct total as of noon today:

- 1st—220
- 2nd—360
- 3rd—245
- 4th—183
- 5th—200
- 6th—187
- 7th—224
- 8th—287
- 9th—359
- 10th—280
- 11th—385
- 12th—254

Several precincts reported that they'd already recorded in six hours what they normally totaled in an entire voting day.

May Exceed 1948

If the pace continues, the off-year election voting may even top the total vote in the '48 presidential election, at least as far as Lee county is concerned.

The total Lee county vote two years ago, when President Truman ascended the experts, particularly Gallup, Roper and Crosley, was about 13,400.

In April, the total vote was about 5,500.

HE CAME TO KILL

by ADELINE McELFRESH
Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Aunt Maggie, dominating matriarch of the Thorne family, is murdered and all of the household including her nephews Peter and Jasper, are suspected. The sheriff and his deputy refuse to believe planted evidence implicating Leana, Aunt Maggie's grand niece. Later Sandra, Jasper's wife, tells Leana she is afraid she says Jasper has a gun. It's Miss Maggie's. I think I found it under his pillow.

XII

SONDRA padded barefooted across the room to slide the big old-fashioned bolt into its slot. The shaded night light at the head of the stairs struggled fitfully with the darkness, seemed to increase the old house's frightening gloom. Martin Preston and Jasper were drinking coffee in the kitchen. Mart grinned at Leana entered, but Jasper regarded her with an angry frown.

"You would butt in, wouldn't you, Leana?" he growled.

"You sound like Peter," Leana retorted.

Leana poured herself a cup of coffee. It emptied the pot.

"You two have been on a binge, haven't you?" Then, quickly, "Don't scowl at me, Jap. I've just come from Sandra. She tells me you have Miss Maggie's gun."

The blunt accusation surprised no one but Leana, who stared in amazement as the men traded knowing glances.

"I wondered who put it there," Jasper said finally. He sounded dead-tired, hopeless. "Now I know. My wife," bitterly, "is trying to frame me."

LEANA sipped her coffee. It didn't make sense. She didn't just walk into a room and practically accuse a man of murder—and have him accept it so calmly. Peter would have screamed his innocence from the rooftops.

"Maybe Peter is trying to make you think Sandra is guilty," she ventured.

"Why not? If Peter killed Miss Maggie it would be to his advantage to play you and Sandra against one another, wouldn't it?"

"And you against the both of us, you mean?" Jasper Thorne shook his head. "Somehow I don't think it's Peter. He isn't the violent type."

Deputy Preston snorted into his coffee. "Is there a 'type' to commit murder?" he demanded, hurriedly wiping away traces of his breach of etiquette. "Even a shyster with a penchant for beautiful dames—"

"So you know that, too," Jasper said dully, as though another grievance had been added to his already back-breaking load. "But you would. Peter's escapades have been talked about. He's a Thorne; people thrive on our troubles."

"Stop feeling sorry for yourself," snapped Martin. "If you Thornes would come down off your pedestal—"

He broke off, perhaps realizing that he was echoing Sandra, and began again: "Don't let it break you, Jasper. You can leave Thorne Hill now. You can live normally, you and Sandra. You can live as Peter has all these years—freely. If" and Leana watched while his eyes became narrow slits through which he appraised her cousin's pinched, brown face, "you didn't kill your aunt."

Jasper merely gave him an enigmatic smile and said coolly, "Go practice your dramatics in greener pastures, Preston. I'm going to bed."

He stalked out of the room without looking back. Leana wondered if he knew he still carried a half-filled cup of lukewarm coffee—or if he cared.

LEANA tipped the percolator, saw again that it was empty, and said, "He told you about the gun. Why?"

"He even showed it to me. Managing, I might add, to muffle fingerprints that might have been on it."

"Intentionally?"

"Could be," Martin shrugged. "You Thornes are queer ducks, Leana. You're all against one and the devil take him—then you right-about-face and bungle every chance there might be of trapping one of the clan. But I've got the gun, at least. That's something."

A scream rose eerily from somewhere in the darkened house, rose and fell as the thin body plummeted downward. Terror closed in again, strangling in Leana every emotion but the wild urge to run while there still was time.

GAS PRESSURE Like Rock in Stomach

One Dixon man stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a rock in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside him. His food would turn to gas. Whiteside-Lee Dentists to Study by Use of Telephone

The Whiteside-Lee Dental Society this winter will keep up to date on their profession by listening to the telephone.

The University of Illinois College of Dentistry will transmit a telephone broadcast once a month from Chicago to 254 dental societies and study clubs.

More than 10,000 dentists in 46 states and seven Canadian provinces will hear the two-hour telephone broadcasts which will start Nov. 13 and continue through March.

Six leading dental and medical scientists who are associated with colleges and universities will participate in each session. They will converse in a lecture hall on the university campus.

In transmitting the lecture, telephone contact will be made from the hall to Chicago then to the hotel or assembly hall in all the cities in which the participating dental societies are located. The telephone talks will be blown up by means of loud speakers. Illustrations and other information used by the lecturers have been published in a textbook which has been mailed to all dentists enrolled in the postgraduate course.

The topic for discussion in the first broadcast will be "Modern Concepts of Drug Therapy in Dental Practice." Participants will be Dr. J. Garret Allen, J. Roy Blayney and C. Philip Miller of the University of Chicago, Thomas J. Hill of Western Reserve University, Floyd D. Ostrander of the University of Michigan, and Kurt H. Thoma of Harvard University.

As an added feature of the first broadcast, a special period will be devoted to civilian atomic defense.

Dr. A. C. Ivy, vice president of the University of Illinois in charge of Chicago Professional colleges will discuss "The Atomic Age and the Urgency of Civilian Atomic Defense."

Several other postgraduate courses were offered by telephone on a limited basis before the university embarked on a national program last year.

One advantage of the new system is that there is no limit on the number who can enroll. Previously the university was forced to reject applications for enrollment in many postgraduate courses because of limited facilities. With the telephone arrangement, courses can be given to an unlimited number of dental societies throughout the country.

Co-Op Reports On Dairy Herd Improvement

More than 2,500 members and visitors from northern Illinois counties and adjacent states attended the recent Open House of the Northern Illinois Breeding Co-Op held at their bull barn eight miles northwest of Elgin, Illinois.

This open house featured an exhibit of 90 daughters of bulls now in service for the Co-Op members and was planned to show the accomplishments of breeding better dairy cattle during the past 10 years, or since April of 1940 when the artificial breeding program in Illinois was started with cooperating farmers in Kane, Lake, McHenry and parts of Boone, DeKalb, DuPage, and Cook counties.

18 Daughters
As part of the exhibit at the open house 18 daughters, all artificially sired, that have completed one or more records had an average actual production of 599.8 lbs. of fat at an average of three years and 3 months.

At the meeting a U. S. D. A. Proved Sire report was given on 80 dam and daughter comparisons for Osbornale Sir Ty-Vic Rag Apple, the first Holstein sire to be brought into the stud as a result of a planned mating. The 80 daughters averaged 15,490 lbs. of milk and 528 pounds of fat with an average test of 3 per cent on a 3055 day, twice-a-day milking, mature equivalent basis. This is an increase of 1,297 pounds of milk and 57 pounds of fat with 3 per cent in test. All 80 of these daughters were artificially produced by the "Northern Illinois" service.

Feature Sire
Oak Bend King Bess Perfection, one of the first five Holstein sires used by Illinois farmers in their artificial breeding program, was featured with five eight-year-old artificially sired daughters whose average production for all lactations was 580 pounds of fat and with their best record averaging 683 pounds of fat, actual production.

The original breeding program included only Holstein, but since 1946 four other dairy breeds have been added—Guernseys in May of 1946, Brown Swiss in October of 1948, Jerseys in February of 1949, and Milking Shorthorns in July of this year.

Proof of Rainbow
A proof compiled by the Bureau of Dairying, U. S. D. A., recently was received by the Northern Illinois Breeding Co-Op, Dundee, on one of their outstanding Brown Swiss sires, Rainbow Wonder 66318.

The first five daughters of "Wonder" have a 305 day lactation, twice-a-day, mature equivalent basis of 12,162 pounds of milk and 509 pounds of fat. The dams of these daughters have an average production on the same basis of 9,983 pounds of milk and 437 pounds of fat. This proof gives "Wonder" an increase in production in his daughters of 2,179 pounds of milk and 72 pounds of fat.

Desirable Udders
Besides siring daughters that in general have very desirable production, the daughters of "Wonder" also have very desirable udders. At various shows in recent years the offspring of "Wonder" have done very well in the snow ring.

At the Canton Show held at Rockford this past June, a son and two daughters made up the first prize get of sire in one of the strong Swiss snows in the state. One of the heifers in the get as first in the two-year-old heifer class and was the junior

Top Sellers
Relatives of several of the Guernsey sires in service at the bull stud of the Northern Illinois Breeding Co-Op, Dundee, were among the top selling animals at the recent Boulder Bridge Farm Dispersal Sale.

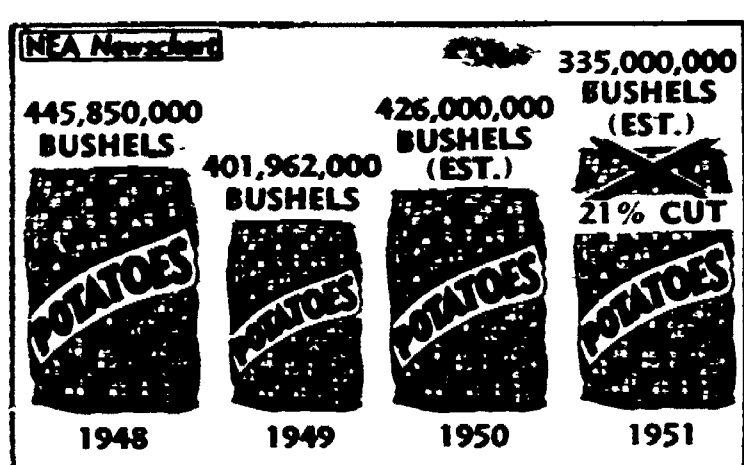

Boulder Bridge A. Bluet, a daughter of Boulder Bridge Aggressor, was the highest selling heifer calf under a year of age and sold for $2,100.00. Thirteen "Aggressor" daughters from five to 12 months of age sold for an average of $676.00 and were considered by many to be some of the choicest young animals in the sale.

High Priced Bulls
Boulder Bridge Lucero, the sire of Boulder Bridge Capulet, sold for $8,000.00 or the highest price paid for any animal at the sale and a son of "Lucero", a paternal brother to "Cap", sold for $3,900.00, the second highest price paid for a bull in the sale.

The dam of "Cap", Boulder Bridge Urania, "Excellent", sold for $3,100.00, the fourth highest price paid for a female in the sale. A full sister to "Cap", Boulder Bridge Bernice, sold for $1,000.00, the highest price paid for a heifer calf under six months of age.

The top price for a female in this sale was $4,100.00 and was paid for a paternal sister to Boulder Bridge Cruiser, Boulder Bridge Queeque.

Predict Increase in Farm Prices, Income During '51

Urbana—Washington experts agree that farm prices and incomes will be higher in 1951 than this year, but they don't agree on how much.

Economist Reports
So reports L. H. Smerl, University of Illinois agricultural economist, from Washington, D. C. He attended the annual farm outlook conference which ended there last Saturday. Delegates from all 48 states heard latest reports from federal experts on all phases of the farm economist picture.

Smerl writes that consumer demand for food will increase materially in 1951, but price increases will be moderate. There will be some increase in supplies of food to partly offset larger payrolls and smaller supplies of nonfood items. In general, supplies of consumer goods will be only a little smaller than in 1950.

Support Argument
As for price supports, some members of the U. S. Department of Agriculture say we need them, especially for hogs. Other government officials emphasize the need for basic controls over inflation.

Smerl says the experts dodge all questions on the probability of price controls on farm products in 1951. For meats and meat animals the testing time will come next spring when marketings normally decline. Government officials will play by ear then.

General Outlook
Here's the supply picture: corn reserves will be cut considerably

by next fall—probably down to 500 or 600 million bushels. A short crop in 1951 would be a calamity. Hog production is expected to increase only a little—about five percent. But cattle numbers are increasing fast; we could have 25 percent more beef in five years. Profits from feeding were at record levels in 1950; they'll be much lower in 1951, but still good.

With higher consumer income, dairymen should benefit from larger sales of fluid milk and ice cream. But Smerl says not to expect a large increase in the price of milk.

The demand for soybean meal will be stronger because of higher numbers and prices of livestock. The soybean oil market will receive support from the generally strong market for fats and oils.

Farmer Loses Hand Trying to Save Some Time

Urbana—It's no fun to cut off your own left hand in a corn picker accident in order to prevent a more serious injury.

But that's just what happened to Melvin Foltz last fall because he was in too much of a hurry. Foltz, in his 20's, lives in Pennsylvania, but his case is typical of too many such accidents in Illinois.

Started Late
Foltz got a late start one morning in helping his neighbor, Sam Bruebaker, pick corn, and about two-thirds the way down the first row the picker clogged. He hopped off the tractor, grabbed the stalks, and pulled.

"Before I knew it," says Foltz, "the stalks flew through and I didn't have time to let go. My hand was dragged through the picking rollers and practically cut off at the wrist."

Amputates Hand
Foltz' hand hung by only two or three tendons, so he cut it off to get free from the picker. Luckily, another neighbor had come over to the farm to go hunting. He saw the accident, came running to stop the tractor, and then took off for help.

Dick Ayers, University of Illinois farm machinery specialist, says you can't be too careful with a corn picker. Play it safe, he urges. Keep your hands where they belong. And that is not in a running machine.

"LOST" LAKES

Pastures Produce Gains Despite Heavy Grazing

Despite heavy grazing, one of the best pastures at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment station has produced extra-large animal gains per acre during the past three years.

Livestock specialist Harry Russell says the Ladino clover-alfa fescue mixture produced 682 pounds of lamb and beef in 1948, 470 pounds of beef in 1949, and 550 pounds of beef this year.

He adds that in 1950 the cattle were taken off the pasture by Aug. 15, so the 550 pounds were produced before that date. Livestock gains of around 400 pounds an acre are considered pretty good.

Big Increase Seen in Sale of Mixed Fertilizer

Urbana—A University of Illinois report issued today says the tonnage of mixed fertilizers sold in Illinois in 1949 was almost nine times larger than in 1940.

L. T. Kurtz and H. G. Pieper, college of agriculture soils men, say that 38,900 tons were sold in 1940. In 1949 sales had jumped to 317,000 tons, almost nine times larger.

Kurtz and Pieper receive reports semi-annually from about 70 fertilizer dealers and manufacturers which probably account for nearly all the plant foods sold in Illinois.

The report for the first six months of 1950 shows that 238,500 tons of mixed fertilizers were sold during that period. More than half of this total was 3-12-12. In addition, 60,000 tons of other materials like superphosphate and ammonium nitrate were sold, plus 175,000 tons of rock phosphate.

New Way Found to Prevent Chapped Udders, Teats

Urbana—Here's a new idea for preventing chapped teats and udders on dairy cows that has worked well so far for Ralph Emel and son, Moutine county.

They bought a jar of women's hand cream from the local drug-gist, and applied a small amount of it to the teats and udders of their cows after they finished milking them. The Emels think they have solved part of their trouble in this way.

TUMS
FOR THE TUMMY

Mrs. Rebecca Perkinpaugh, 1907 West Penn. St., Evansville, Ind., says her favorite pastime these days is going fishing with her husband—that is, of course, since she has been relieved of aches and pains in the shoulders, arms, legs and back by taking HADACOL because she found she had a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Nicotin. She now has the vitality and energy to do many things that, before HADACOL gave her these necessary elements, she was unable to do.

Here is Mrs. Perkinpaugh's own statement: "I was sure in an awful fix for a while. My arms, legs, hips and back were sure in a sorry condition. My appetite was awful bad—couldn't eat anything. Didn't know what I was going to do. I read the ad. Then one day I read and saw other folks were being helped by HADACOL. I decided to try it. Now I have taken 5 bottles of HADACOL and I sure feel fine. My arms, legs, back and hips don't ache a bit. I have never heard of anything so wonderful as HADACOL. I even have a wonderful appetite. For so little as you really want to know what to do—I say try HADACOL."

Yes, You Should Try HADACOL—as have thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamin B1, B2, Iron and Nicotin. The HADACOL formula is so effective for aches and pains in shoulders, legs and arms, and a general run-down condition due to such deficiencies in your system.

Make up your mind to give remarkable HADACOL a try to help you as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin and Iron. Remember there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL—no risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL either the trial size, $1.25, or the large, family size or hospital size, $3.50 and your money will be refunded if your druggist or pharmacist says you don't need it. Write to HADACOL Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

UN May 'Ask' Chinese Reds To Withdraw

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The United States, stepping gingerly in the tenuous Korean situation, was reported today to favor a simple demand by the United Nations security council that the Chinese Communists cease their aid to North Korea.

Informed officials told a reporter this contemplated course would not include any charge of aggression and would not irrevocably link the Peking Communist regime with the dispatch of Chinese military units.

Situation Confused

Gen. Douglas MacArthur officially advised the U. N. yesterday these Chinese Red forces are now opposing his U. N. troops. The situation remained somewhat confused, however. Dispatches from the front reported the Chinese were withdrawing at least on a limited scale in some sectors.

The State Department was known to be consulting with other non-Communist governments on a proposal for U. N. action designed to avoid an immediate showdown over Chinese intervention.

This would be a continuation of past U. S. policy, which has been aimed at wiping out the Communist aggression in Korea without taking any step which might involve the tremendous land armies of Communist China in the fighting.

U. S. Gravely Concerned

Gravely concerned over the explosive possibilities of the last few days, American authorities made it plain the U. S. wants to avoid any action now which would make it difficult for the Communists to reverse or change their course.

These officials still considered it entirely possible that (1) The Chinese may limit their aid to the troops already across the border and even withdraw them, or that (2) MacArthur will be able to deal decisively with the threat before it worsens.

Mrs. Willkie Speaks

Concern over the new turn of events was voiced by three Republican senators and Mrs. Wendell L. Willkie, widow of the 1940 GOP presidential candidate, Mrs. Willkie joined in a statement issued through Republican national committee headquarters on behalf of Senators H. Alexander Smith (N.J.), Flanders (Vt.) and Ives (N.Y.).

They said Chinese Communist intervention in Korea "presents a staggering issue that threatens all civilization" and declared that this country's Far Eastern policy has been dominated by "a small willful group in the State Department intent on appeasing the Chinese Communist revolution."

Northwest Plane, With 21 Is Down

Reports of explosions about the same time also came in from Lake Delmo and Camp Caroline, in the Homestake pass area.

Wiley told officials in Butte to get ambulances into that area, about 10 miles southeast of the mile-high mining city.

Flight C, fourth rescue squadron, at McChord Air Force base, Wash., said a B-17 and a C-47 with a para-land rescue team aboard would take off this forenoon to join the search.

Northwest Airlines at Seattle announced the crew members were Capt. Lloyd Lampman, Co-Pilot James Huss and Stewardesses Laurene Nohr and Marnie White, all of Seattle. Miss White was aboard as a "check stewardess," to train Miss Nohr, a new employee.

Wiley said there was a slim possibility that the two-engine airliner's radio equipment went out and the plane flew over or around Butte and went on to some other airport.

The plane had fuel for three or four hours of flying, Northwest said.

Report "Explosion"

Wiley was checking a report of an "explosion" at 8:15 a. m. at Homestake Pass, where the Northern Pacific railroad crosses Pipestone Pass.

A Mrs. Halvorson, wife of a Northern Pacific railroad section foreman, made the report to NP, which called police here.

Resistance Mounts

But Communist resistance mounted in one northeast sector. A U. S. Seventh division combat patrol north of Pungsan reported it was under attack "by a hell of a lot of North Koreans."

The patrol was on the north bank of the Ungi river. Carrier-based Marine Corsairs flew in to give air support.

This was the first serious opposition in three days for the division's 17th regimental combat team. It is driving north in zero weather within less than 30 miles of the Manchurian border.

Farther east, however, Red Korean troops and five tanks were reported withdrawing northward from Myongchong, next goal of the South Korean Capital division driving toward the Siberian border. The ROKS last were reported six miles south of Myongchong.

In the Pakchon area advance, Australian units on the left flank met the only notable resistance when they routed 100 Red soldiers. Allied warplanes began burning all villages to flush out Chinese Red soldiers.

Change Clothes

U. S. First Cavalry division troops reported they had seen Chinese troops change into civilian clothing and loiter around in villages during the day while Allied planes buzzed overhead.

Communist dead with reversible uniforms were found in the Anjukun area. The uniforms were grey-green on one side, civilian white on the other.

Fifth air force fighter-bombers and light bombers rocketed, strafed and bombed all along the front and as far north as Kanggye, the Reds' frontier command center.

Tokchon, northeast of Anju, was hit hard.

The air force said 600 enemy troops were killed, and two tanks, five artillery pieces, 45 vehicles and six buildings destroyed.

Between 1930 and 1947 the U. S. Bureau of Mines received reports of 194 lives lost in 434 mine fires.

The Rev. Milton A. Dodson, prominent southern gospel song writer, evangelist, and Christian leader, and Mrs. Dorothy Kunzman Dodson, noted youth director, soloist and woman speaker, will be heard Wednesday evening, Nov. 8th, at 7:30 as guests of the Rev. Elmer E. Fitch, minister, in the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, at Fifth street and Ottawa avenue, Dixon.

Recognized as America's foremost interpreters of southern gospel music, the Dodsons will feature their distinctive sacred song and story program, original compositions, Negro spirituals, and favorite deep-south gospel melodies. Included will be some of the unusual duet arrangements which they have popularized on broadcasts over many leading radio stations.

Mrs. Dodson, a gifted contralto soloist and musician, is widely known for her work as a capable youth leader, counselor, and writer, and is greatly in demand as a speaker to conference and religious training groups as well as on the evangelistic platform. Both she and Mr. Dodson have served on the faculty of a leading Christian college and, working together as a team, have traveled extensively in the interests of evangelism and Christian education. Mrs. Dodson will be remembered for her previous visits to Dixon as Miss Dorothy Kunzman.

normally heavy voting for an off-year election.

If the final results follow the pattern in Lee county, the Republicans running for county offices are assured of election. And Durksen and the GOP state candidates will take Lee county by a two-to-one majority.

Whatever the results are, they won't be in until late tonight or early tomorrow morning. The heavy vote is bound to slow down election returns.

In '48, it was the middle of the morning before there was any real indication of whom had won. It was well after midnight before the senatorial race between Brooks and Douglas was decided and before the state knew who the next governor would be—Stevenson or Green.

Amboy Heavy, Too

Gene Strouss of the Amboy News told The Telegraph that the voting in the two precincts there was "much heavier than usual."

He said the final total may break the previous record for off-year voting.

on its responsibility for preservation of world peace."

Truman Votes

The President, after voting in his home precinct in Independence, planned to return to Washington later in the day by plane.

In a speech accepting the gift to Independence of a liberty bell from Ancey, France, Truman praised what he said was the Democratic administration's contribution to the American concept of freedom.

He said the Democrats (1) Had "put agriculture on a stable basis," (2) Had "brought a new element of democracy into our industrial life through collective bargaining," (3) Had "established a basic security against unemployment and old age" and (4) Had "preserved and developed our natural resources for the benefit of all."

See Close Races

The GOP's chance of regaining control in today's voting appeared to hinge on the outcome of close races in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Utah.

Fourteen senate seats are involved in voting in those states, eight of them now held by Democrats and six by Republicans. A clean sweep would give the GOP one more than its needs for control of the senate. With some others, the same states could provide the necessary gain in house seats for GOP control of that body.

The Republicans apparently had only secondary hopes of picking up Democratic seats in such states as Kentucky, Maryland, Oklahoma and Washington.

Democrats Hopeful

Democrats continued to claim that they not only will turn back the Republicans but will improve their strength in the senate, where they now outnumber the GOP 54 to 42 and in the house, where the count is 259 Democrats to 169 Republicans, one American-labor and six vacancies divided evenly among Republicans and Democrats when last filled.

The Democrats concentrated on attempts to knock off Republican senators in Colorado, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Ohio.

Governorship races in 13 out of 33 states are counted as close. Of these 13 statehouse posts, seven are now filled by Democrats and six by Republicans. Democrat governors outnumber Republicans, now 29 to 19.

Some Hot Contests

The 13 states with warmly contested races include California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Iowa, Maryland, Michigan, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Results of the balloting will have a strong bearing on the political futures of some candidates.

Most conspicuous of these is Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who may be a contender for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952 if he is re-elected to the senate.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Republican nominee who didn't win the presidency in 1944 and 1948, fought hard for re-election as governor, winding up his campaign with a marathon television stunt. Dewey says he won't try again for the presidential nomination.

His 1948 running mate, Gov. Earl Warren of California, will be in the picture if he is re-elected for a third term as governor.

Another Republican governor, James H. Duff, of Pennsylvania, is bidding for the seat of senator Myers, the assistant Democratic leader. If Duff gets it, he may have something to say about who is the GOP presidential nominee in 1952.

Bowles Has Fight

On the Democratic side, Gov. Chester Bowles is in the political fight of his life in Connecticut. If he wins re-election, he might be counted in the 1952 presidential calculations, if President Truman chooses not to run again.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democrat leader, also has a hard fight for re-election. If he wins, he may have to be reckoned with in 1952. His defeat probably would plunge senate Democrats into a battle over party leadership there.

Situation Tense Over UN Violation by Red Chinese

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Chinese Communists, in open defiance of Lake Success, have invaded Korea and attacked forces fighting under the flag of the United Nations. This has been officially confirmed by General MacArthur in a special report.

Situation Tense

The situation is tense—one of the most critical moments since the end of World War II.

The United States has called for a special meeting of the U. N. security council tomorrow to consider this fresh crisis.

If further proof were needed that China is acting with the blessings of Russia, it could be found in an amazing official speech delivered in Moscow last night by Deputy Premier Bulganin, one of Russia's great personalities.

China for special praise. He declared that Korea has "become the banner of all oppressed peoples fighting for liberation" and hinted that the tide may turn there. He asserted that the Koreans had suffered a measure of defeat because America had flung into the fight all its far eastern forces, and some from other countries.

This is an uncomfortable moment for at least some of the score of nations which rushed in and extended diplomatic recognition to the Chinese Communist government in Peking. There can be no doubt that the regime got great encouragement from these recognitions. Now Britain, for one, is considering cancelling her recognition.

What Can Be Done? Of course the big question today is what the U. N. can do about this Chinese assault. The Chinese can be condemned and asked to withdraw their invading troops—but suppose they refuse? That presents a dangerous problem.

It is safe to assume that in making this daring venture, China is banking that neither the United States nor the United Nations will make all-out war against her.

Whether that can be reached by the U. N. in this Korea crisis, it seems clear there is one essential. This is that there be concerted action among the peace-makers.

Woman Dead 11 Minutes Revives; Doctors Puzzled

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Columbia hospital reported today the case of a woman who apparently died but came back to life. Maj. Gen. Albert W. Kenner, superintendent, said the time period during which the woman showed no signs of life has not been determined exactly, but that it was from four to 11 minutes. If 11 minutes, it probably is the longest such period in medical history, he said.

Six Doctors There More than a dozen people, including six doctors, were present. From their reports the hospital is attempting to determine accurately how long the signs of life were absent.

Kenner gave this account: The woman, 31, Negro, came to the hospital last week for the birth of a baby.

She showed symptoms of eclampsia, an ailment occasionally occurring in pregnancy which in severe cases may result in convulsions and death.

When the woman failed to give birth in a normal manner in 36 hours, the doctors decided it was necessary to deliver the baby by Caesarian operation. A spinal anesthetic was injected. A short time later all signs of life, including pulse, disappeared.

A heart stimulant and artificial respiration were administered but apparently had no effect.

Performed "Post-Mortem"

The doctors then performed what they considered a post-mortem operation removing the child. After the baby had been removed, signs of life appeared in the mother. In a short time she had a good pulse and other evidence of recovery.

"But the doctors agreed that for a time she was as dead as she ever will be," Kenner said. There were no heart sounds and there was no breathing."

The condition of both the mother and the child—a girl weighing six pounds eight ounces—was reported as good today.

The mother's name was withheld.

The Phrase, 'He's a Bum' Appeared More Than Once in Current Political Battle

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The political campaign which closed today was distinguished for its very high, but very subtle, intellectual tone.

For instance, the phrase—"he's a bum"—appeared more than once, giving a staccato effect to sentences which otherwise seemed ponderous.

You can see the advantage in the repetition of a phrase like that day after day, used by a politician to sum up a rival.

It forms an instant link between the speaker and the voters because there hardly breathes a man who at some time or other:

1. Hasn't known a bum or two and formed opinions of them; or
2. Has himself called some rival—in love, dice or business—a bum; or
3. Hasn't been called a bum by some rival.

So the beautifully simple phrase—"he's a bum"—penetrated immediately to the emotions and imaginations and recollections of the voters.

Such a phrase has an added utility: It saves an amazing amount of literary wear and tear on the speech writers whenever they can find a place for it.

There Are Other Words

But, having flexed their mental muscles with such one-syllable color pieces as "he's a bum," the speakers were then able to display their command over much more complicated words that ran up to as many as four syllables, words like:

"Thief, liar, crook, faker, trickster, barbarian, nefarious conspirator, Little Stalin, and hypocrite."

Since this country has assumed world leadership, it may have been a little disquieting for any foreigner who heard the speeches to think that one of the people so described might get elected to high office.

There was no need for them to be disturbed. In spite of any notions to the contrary, American politicians, by and large, are an extremely conservative group, as you can see from what follows:

They could have reached out for some new-fangled ideas not tested by politicians in previous years. But politicians know from experience that the new is always dangerous. Such a step by itself would have been proof of radical tendencies.

A Familiar Touch

So whole herds of this year's politicians, modestly and conservatively, stuck to the old political stand-ards, giving a kind of familiar touch to all they said.

So this one was "tired with isolationism," that one was "leading the nation down the road to Socialism," this one was "hand-picked by Wall Street" and that one was a "rubber stamp for the administration."

And, geographically, this year's politicians displayed an astonishing range and versatility, giving individual interpretations of what happened at Yalta, laying the blame for Korea, and disclosing in no uncertain way the strategic importance of Formosa, or lack of it.

While such themes as "Communism" and "witch-hunting" are no longer exactly new, they were by no means overlooked by the politicians who, being human, are sentimental enough not to want to discard old things because they're old.

Variety in Techniques

All of this was free, and sometimes was accompanied by a barbecue without charge. But not content with the wide variety of themes, the politicians even provided variety in techniques.

Some descended in helicopters, fully equipped to begin talking on landing. This may have had a symbolic effect on voters: A man coming from the general direction of Heaven, uttering prophecies.

Some had pretty girls hand out comic books at their rallies so that the voters, in the pauses between speeches, could bone up a bit on this latest American art form.

And although it may have been a little difficult for some of the dull-minded voters to see what it had to do with fitness for office, one 69-year-old candidate for governor challenged his rival to a foot race.

Opening of 'Met' Is Most Successful One

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Metropolitan Opera opened its 1950-51 season last night and everybody—the company, the new manager, the music lovers, the celebrity seekers and the celebrities—went away happy.

The company that performed Verdi's "Don Carlo" was pleased by frequent and loud bravos from an audience that seemed more stirred than on most opening nights.

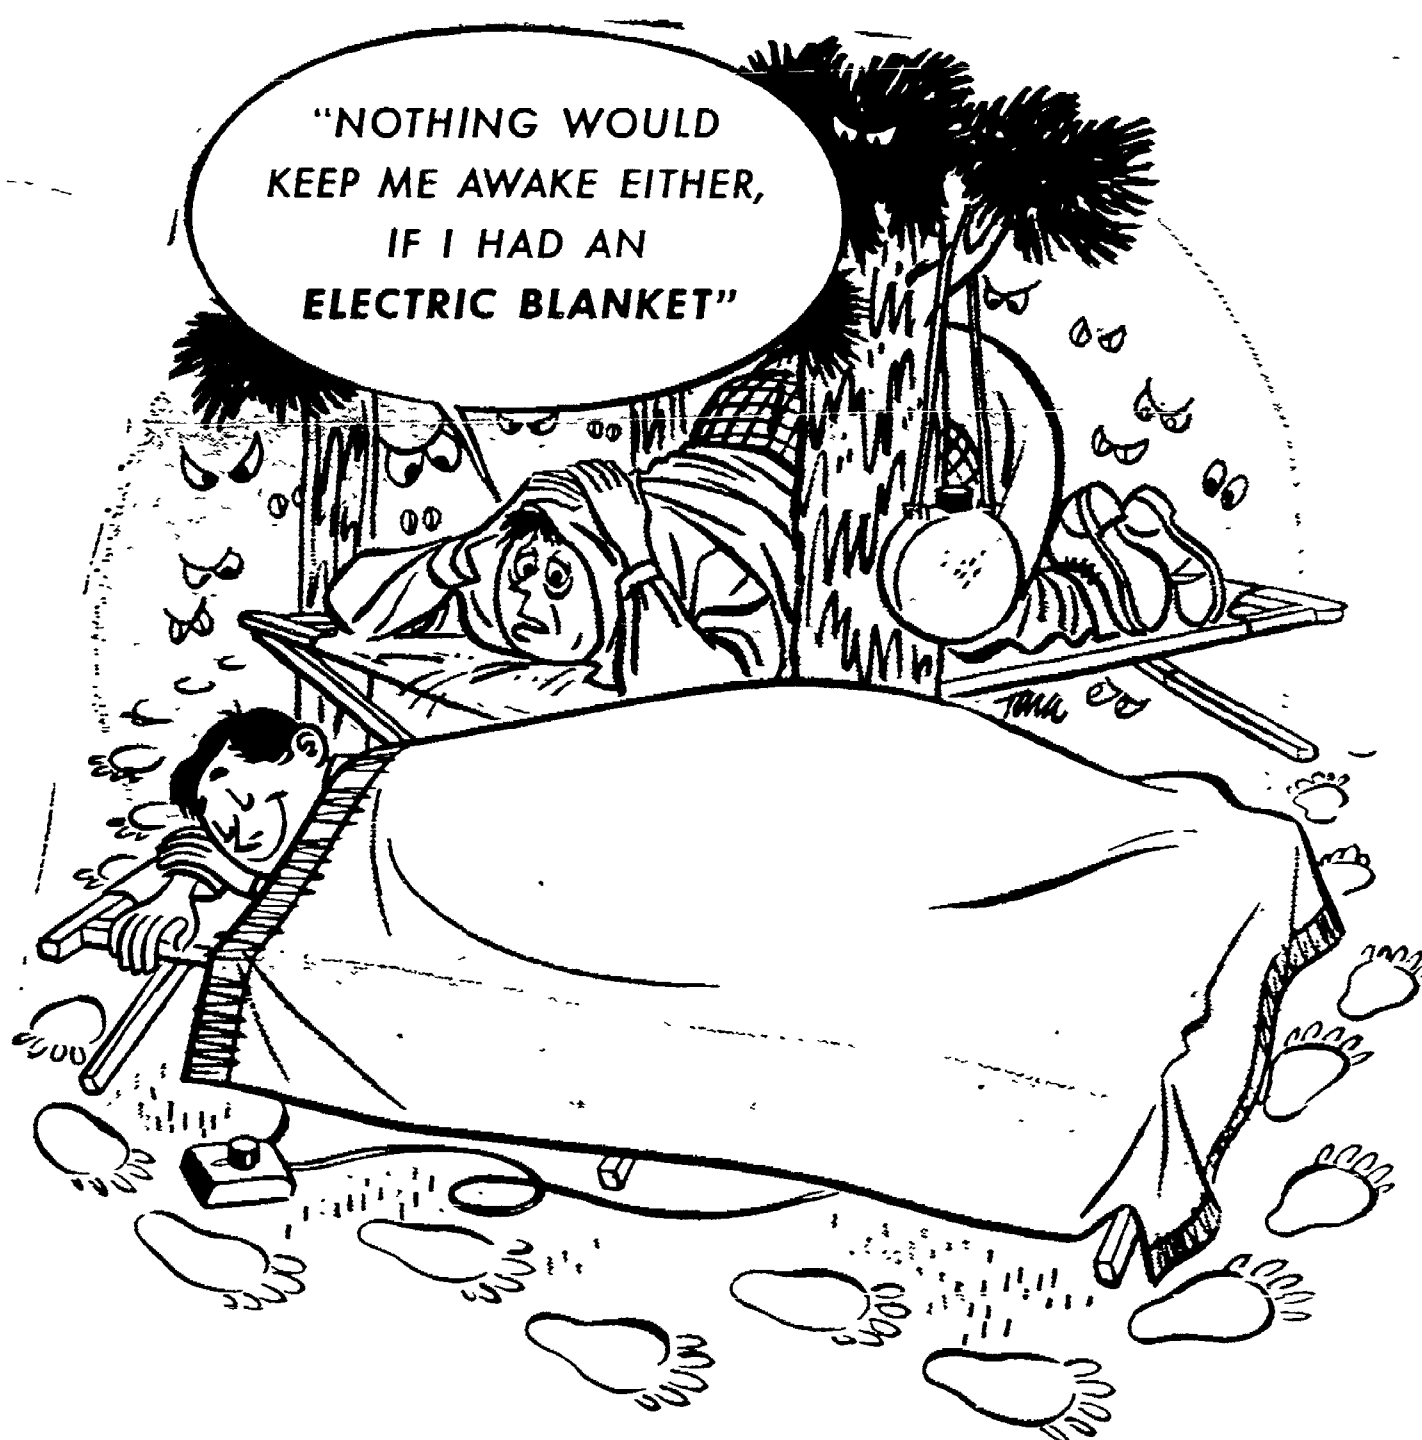

AMERICAN DREAM—Little Chuck Bentley, 8, of Denver, Colo., got The Big One when fraternity men at the University of Denver treated 1000 orphans to a football game and refreshments. The school's interfraternity council supplied 2000 hot dogs, most of them smaller than Chuck's, 3000 bottles of pop and impressive amounts of candied apples, popcorn and candy for the children.

Rose Bowl Contract May Meet Opposition

Pacific Critics Want Champ Of Big Ten

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—With Illinois and Wisconsin becoming top Rose Bowl choices, renewed opposition against the signing of another Big Ten-Pacific Coast football pact can be expected.

Michigan State Plans Big Ten Basketball Year

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Michigan State, a member-in-name-only of the Big Ten for two years, becomes eligible for its first conference championship in the forthcoming basketball season.

ONE FOR US!—Canadiens raise sticks triumphantly as a goal is scored by teammate Calum McKay against the Rangers at Madison Square Garden.

1950 All-Star Team Selected, Rizutto Leads

By JOE REICHLER New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Seven players from the American and four from the National make up the 1950 major league all-star team selected for the Associated Press today by 381 sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast.

Half of the 16 big league clubs, four in each circuit, are represented in the AP's fifth annual all-star squad.

The world champion New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox are the only clubs to have more than one representative. In addition to shortstop Phil Rizutto, the most popular of the 11 selections, the Yanks landed outfielder Joe DiMaggio and catcher Yogi Berra.

Not a single member of the National league champion Philadelphia Phillies made the team. In fact, the only first division club to be represented is Brooklyn.

The all-star team: First Base—Walt Dropo, Red Sox. Second Base—Jackie Robinson, Dodgers.

Five of the players are hold-overs from the 1949 all-star team. They are Jackie Robinson, Dodger, George Kell, Tigers; Phil Rizutto, Yankees; Stan Musial, Cardinals and Ralph Kiner, Pirates.

Football Poll Shows Wide Debate, Army Back in First

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The question of who has the best college football team in the country probably never has been more widely debated than right now.

Twelve teams received first place votes in today's latest Associated Press poll, which saw Army recapture the No. 1 position from Southern Methodist.

But the Cadets, who led the rankings until replaced by the Southwesterners two weeks ago, didn't go to the top on a wave of overwhelming national acclaim.

They received only 88 of the 314 first place votes cast by sports writers and broadcasters. That was six less than lavished on once-beaten Ohio State, which moved up from fourth to second.

Nine of the ten top teams—all but tenth-ranked Illinois—were rated best in the land by from two to 94 participants. Three in the lower brackets received top mention.

Here's college football's new first: Army, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Texas, California, Southern Methodist, Princeton, Miami (Fla.), Illinois.

Oklahoma, which has a modern record 27-game winning streak going, received 48 first place votes while unbeaten Kentucky got 35.

The standings are figured on the basis of ten points for first, nine for second, etc.

The surge of Ohio State featured the latest balloting. The Buckeyes, who have bounced back from an opening game loss to SMU to smother five foes, barely were beaten out of first place.

They received 2,451 points compared with 2,451 for Army. Five more No. 1 votes would have put them on top.

The Buckeyes, who walked Northwestern Saturday, 32-0, will meet Wisconsin next.

Army, 23-13 conqueror of Penn. has a breather this week in New Mexico while the other ranking eleven have it fairly rugged.

The volume, with first place votes in parentheses: (10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1) basis.

TOP TEN 1. Army (68) 2. Ohio State (45) 3. Oklahoma (45) 4. Kentucky (35) 5. Texas (35) 6. California (35) 7. Southern Methodist (25) 8. Princeton (25) 9. Miami (Fla.) (25) 10. Illinois (25)

SECOND TEN 11. Michigan State (15) 12. Stanford (15) 13. Washington (15) 14. Nebraska (15) 15. Wisconsin (15) 16. Vanderbilt (15) 17. Kansas (15) 18. Iowa (15) 19. Oregon (15) 20. Utah (15)

THIRD TEN 21. Missouri (10) 22. North Carolina (10) 23. Wake Forest (10) 24. Texas Tech (10) 25. Baylor (10) 26. Virginia Tech (10) 27. Clemson (10) 28. Georgia Tech (10) 29. Florida State (10) 30. Duke (10)

Six Gridders Race for State Scoring Title

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 7.—(AP)—At least six players are still in the running for high point honors on downstate Illinois prep grid-irons this season.

The leader is halfback Paul Reynolds of Springfield Cathedral with 138 points. However, Reynolds has finished his season while the other contenders still have one or two games left.

Don Grothe of Unity (Tolono) with 123 points, Bill Roe of Salem with 126 and Bill Roe of Knoxville, 116, each has one tilt to go.

Bob Rynders of Marquette Alton, who has 122, and Don Smith of Robinson with 112 have two games remaining.

Five-Town School Unity high school, competing in its first year of 11 man football, will post a perfect nine game record if it gets past Charleston this Friday.

Last year the school played the six man game. Its enrollment is drawn from five towns—Tolono, Sidney, Philo, Pesotum and Sadorus in the east central part of the state.

Jacksonville needs a victory over Sullivan this week to give the school its first undefeated and untied team since 1914. It already has captured the Central conference title.

Winchester's Wildcats have made a bit of local athletic history. Their 13-7 win from Pleasant Hill last week brought the Illinois Valley crown to Winchester the first time in the 23 years the league has been operating.

Other Winners Weekend triumphs also named title winners in four other conferences. Christopher repeated in the Coal Belt by downing Zeigler, 13-6; Gibson City picked up the Wausau flag by defeating Paxton, 12-0, and Walnut captured the Blackhawk with a 14-0 decision from Galva.

Woodstock took its first grid-iron title since 1937 in wrapping up the North Suburban pennant with a 37-7 conquest of Zion-Benton.

Barrington's left end, Steve Roake, scored five touchdowns in his team's 53-12 triumph over Antioch. He returned two kicks, stole the ball from Antioch's passer, and caught two aeriels—all good for six points.

Buddy Parker Finds Cain Faithful End

Detroit.—(AP)—Jim Cain moved from the University of Alabama campus to the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League. His pro coach was Buddy Parker.

When Parker shifted to Coach Bo McMillin's Detroit Lions, one of his first acts was to institute a player trade that brought Cain to the Lions. Cain justified Parker's faith by winning a defensive end position with the Lions.

Missouri Prisoners Have Outdoor Life

Jefferson City, Mo.—(AP)—Trustees at one of Missouri's prisons have had a nice go to it in some respects. The farm is situated in the Missouri River valley where the river and several sloughs provide plenty of opportunity to catch fish. Without license, too.

Karras, Ulrich May Not Play This Saturday

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Two of Illinois' stars may be sidelined for the important clash at Iowa Saturday.

Halfback Johnny Karras, who was withheld from Illinois' 7-0 snowstorm win over Michigan, still is hobbled with a sprained ankle. Physicians said today the sprain must be allowed to heal slowly.

Big Chuck Ulrich, an outstanding tackle, is scheduled for hospital treatment through Thursday for a gash across his nose and under his eye. Six stitches were needed to close the cut, which he received in the Michigan game.

Returning to action after nursing minor injuries are halfbacks Herb Neathery and Paul Douglass, and center Dan Sabino.

A severe case of the fumbles is troubling Coach Bob Weights at Northwestern. The Wildcats have fumbled eight times and lost the ball each time in dropping their last two games, to Wisconsin and Ohio State.

Chuck Hagmann, senior defensive end, will be unable to play against Purdue. He suffered a bruised hip.

The Flying Windmills Are Angels of Mercy in Korea

By STAN SWINTON
Wonsan Airfield, Korea—(AP)—The machine age has developed its own angel of mercy: the helicopter.

The awkward flying windmill has proven its worth in Korea. Time after time, Marine, army and navy helicopters have rescued pilots shot down behind enemy lines or at sea. They have taken out whole cut off units. They have carried wounded to safety by ambulance over rough roads where would have meant death.

"Any military force without them today is back in the days of the civil war," said leathery Brig. Gen. Edward Craig of the famed "Fighting First" Marine division. Marines pioneered use of the helicopters. Marine observation squadron six, which flies them, has rescued 20 downed pilots and downed 200 wounded from the front.

Have Changed Wars
"The helicopters have changed war in two ways," said the squadron commander, Maj. Vincent J. Gottschalk of Pontiac, Mich.

"The infantryman knows that being hopelessly cut off doesn't mean he is going to die or be captured. The helicopters can pick him up. The same thing holds for pilots shot down at sea or over enemy territory. That's worked a wonderful change in morale."

"The second advantage is we can fly commanders right up to the front. They can make their decision with the whole battlefield beneath them."

General Craig, agreeing, said

1950 Census to Cause Change In Congress

Washington, Nov. 7—(AP)—Population shifts ranging from minus seven per cent to plus 44 per cent were reported today by the Census Bureau in its new figures on Illinois congressional districts.

The districts were reapportioned by the Illinois legislature in 1947 for the first time since 1901. The state constitution says the map of the 26 districts should be revised every ten years to conform with new census figures. However, it is uncertain when the legislature will act again.

National population shifts will cut the number of Illinois congressmen from 26 to 25.

Here are the figures for the 26 Illinois districts, showing the 1950 and 1940 population totals and the number and percentage of change:

North Chicago Gains
The biggest gain was reported in the 13th district, the Chicago north shore suburban district including Lake county. It increased 44.5 per cent.

Other gains were 36.9 per cent for the 4th district, a broad

Wounded Vet, 16, Plans to Rejoin Army When of Age

Golconda, Ill., Nov. 7—(AP)—Too young for war, Virgil Baldwin has returned home from fighting Communists in Korea.

He's 16. But the army did not find that out until he was wounded and his mother started to worrying.

Mrs. Kenneth Baldwin of Herod route one, a Southern Illinois farm community, finally fretted so that she wrote to the army.

The army looked into the matter, found Virgil had signed up at 15, and that he would not have to register for the draft until 1952.

Virgil was discharged on Sept. 18. When he arrived home recently he said of his old outfit—the 24th Infantry, "They're just kids."

Escaped Death
He told of being one of three in a group which escaped death behind Red Korean lines. He also told of running into a Russian tank when he mistook it for a U. S. tank until, he said, "it was on top of me" and "I jumped into a rice paddy" as it "cut down on me with a 50 caliber machine gun."

He said the tank kept on its way. He was treated in Kyoto, Japan, for a shoulder flesh wound from a piece of shrapnel and rejoined his outfit before his discharge order, caught up with him. Now, says Virgil:

"I've had my training and I have been informed that the army will want me as soon as I am old enough to register."

The boy added, "The army beats flying around."

Gold in Them Hills In Far Off India

Karnachi—(AP)—Pakistan refused the royalty on the mining of gold and silver at five per cent of the market value.

The government has invited several foreign firms to prospect in the mountainous areas around Quetta, Baluchistan, where a geological survey indicated gold might be found. Silver is being sought in eastern Pakistan, bordering Burma.

The world's hottest weather does not occur anywhere near the equator.
